

DR LIGIA NORONHA

Director, Resources, Regulation and Global Security,
Centre for Global Agreements, Legislation and Trade,
TERI, India

Dr Ligia Noronha serves/has served on several expert panels of the Government of India and the Government of Goa. She is currently on the Global Agenda Council, Mines and Metals, of the World Economic Forum. Dr Noronha has a Masters in Economics from the University of Bombay, a Masters in Sea Use Law, Economics, and Policy, and a PhD from the London School of Economics. She has published nationally and internationally on issues relating to energy security, climate policy, coastal policy, responsible mining, and resource federalism.