

Nebojsa Nakicenovic is Deputy Director General of the International Institute for Applied Systems Analysis (IIASA).

Among other recent positions, Prof. Nakicenovic was Director of the Global Energy Assessment, Member of the United Nations Secretary General High-Level Technical Group on Sustainable Energy for All; Member of the Advisory Council of the German Government on Global Change (WBGU); International Council for Science (ICSU) Committee on Scientific Planning and Review; Co-Chair of the Global Carbon Project (GCP); and OMV (Austrian oil company) Advisory Group on Sustainability.

He is also an Editorial Board Member of the following journals: Technological Forecasting and Social Change, Climate Policy, Journal of the Institution of Civil Engineers, Current Opinion in Environmental Sustainability, Energy Sector Management, and Energy Strategy Reviews. Prof. Nakicenovic holds bachelor's and master's degrees from Princeton University and the University of Vienna, where he also completed his Ph.D. He also holds Honoris Causa Ph.D. degree in engineering from the Russian Academy of Sciences.

Among Prof. Nakicenovic's research interests are the long-term patterns of technological change, economic development and response to climate change and, in particular, the evolution of energy, mobility, information and communication technologies.