

Karma Paljor is an award winning journalist and senior anchor with CNN IBN. He was awarded the reporter of the year in 2010 by Indiantelevision.com at the News Television Awards. In 2011 he won the prestigious Ramnath Goenka Excellence in Journalism Award for Business and Economic Journalism.

Karma has experience spanning 15 years in Print and broadcast journalism. Currently the Business Editor of CNN IBN, he has planned and executed several award winning programmes for the channel. He also heads the Special Features team.

Karma Paljor specializes in civil aviation as his core beat and is an experienced hand at field coverage during natural disasters. The team's coverage of the floods in Uttarakhand, 'Himalayan Tsumani' bagged the Best News Coverage National in English at the exchange4media News Broadcasting Awards (ENBA) 2013.

Karma Paljor is a graduate from the Bangalore University; he also holds a post graduate diploma from the Xavier Institute of Communications, Mumbai. He won the Chevening Scholarship for Broadcast Journalism in 2004.

Karma started his career with the Times of India in Mumbai, he moved to CNBC TV18 in 2001 and to CNN IBN in 2005 as a founding employee.