

Francisco Lozano Winterhalder

Francisco Lozano Winterhalder is a Professor of Environment and Sustainability at ESADE Business School (University Ramon Llull), where he teaches those issues and leads several lines of research focused mainly on Climate Change and the problem of energy and Circular Economy. He is a Biologist, Master in Arts following a Ph. D. Program in Philosophy.

He is a Tutor of Research in the Global Master for International Management, organized by the Virginia University (US), ESADE and the University of Guangzhou (China), Collaborator of the Global System for Sustainable Development (MIT), and an International speaker, having given lectures, courses, seminars in many countries. He also works as a consultant at CEC International, headquartered in Boston (US).

He is a Fellow of the Royal Society of Arts (UK) and member of the especial group for Sustainable Development.

He is also a former Member of the Board of the United Nations Spanish Association. During this period, he participated in the Summit of Earth, Rio+5, in New York, as worldwide representative of the national UN associations.

He was also member of the Sustainable Council of the city of Barcelona and involved in the UNESCO movement. He occupied the secretary of the UNESCO Club in Barcelona for four years.