An economy based primarily on the flow of solar energy will do away, though not completely, with the monopoly of the present over future generations, for even such an economy will still need to tap the terrestrial dowry, especially for materials. Technological innovations will certainly have a role in this direction. But it is high time for us to stop emphasizing exclusively -- as all platforms have apparently done so far -- the increase of supply

Georgescu-Roegen (1975)

The duty of academia is to help attenuate this struggle and not to delude others with ideas beyond the power of human science
