

Dr S K Sarkar, Ph D in Economics from USA, is working as Director, Water Resources & Forestry Division, TERI since September 2014. He also worked earlier with TERI during 1998 till 2003 as Senior Fellow, and during 2005-2007 as Director, Division of Regulatory Studies and Governance.

Dr Sarkar is an IAS officer (retired). He is a former Secretary to the GoI in the Ministry of Water Resources and in the Department of Personnel and Training. He served other Ministries such as Finance Ministry and Defence in the Government of India, and worked in various capacity with Government of West Bengal. Also, worked as consultant with the Asian Development Bank and with the World Bank/PPIAF (Public Private Infrastructure Advisory Facility).

Dr Sarkar has got several publications to his credit, has authored and edited books on infrastructure issue and has presented a number of important papers in several conferences. He also taught a course on “Public Policy” in the Kabul University (2007), Afghanistan. He teaches courses in the TERI University.