

Gyanesh Chaudhary

Mr. Chaudhary is a dynamic business leader and key driving force in Vikram Solar. Under his leadership, the Company has established itself as an internationally acclaimed solar PV module manufacturer and a comprehensive EPC solutions provider.

Mr. Chaudhary strongly believes in the economic, environmental and social implications of business and understands the value of sustainability for business growth and continuity. Ideologically, he believes solar is the core strategy and an answer to various environmental issues affecting the world today.

Mr. Chaudhary is a Business graduate from University of Wales, UK and has a Diploma in Marketing and International Trade from University of Boston and International Business from Harvard Business School, USA. He currently holds the position of Managing Director & CEO of Vikram Solar.

In addition to his responsibilities at Vikram Solar, he is actively associated in a leadership position with various industry bodies. He is the Chairman of Power Committee in Merchant Chamber of Commerce, and RE & Energy Storage Division of IEEMA. He is an executive committee member of Indian Chamber of Commerce (ICC). He is also a member of the Confederation of Indian Industries (CII), the Federation of India Export Organisation, the Engineering Export Promotional Council, the Calcutta Management Association and the Tea Research Association of India and the United Planters Association of Southern India.

He has also been acknowledged as a 'Promising Entrepreneur' by The Economic Times, has received the Bengal Entrepreneurship Award by Bengal Chamber of Commerce and Industry (BCC&I) and has been conferred with Emerging Leader Award by Calcutta Management Association.