

Preeti Soni

Preeti has been working in the area of sustainable development and climate change since 1993. She has extensive programme, policy and research experience - particularly in climate change policy and policy instruments, financing and planning, resilience/adaptation and mitigation strategies, emissions inventories and natural resource management. She has several publications to her name.