

Mitch Bernard

Mitchell Bernard is interim president and has worked at NRDC for more than 25 years. Mr. Bernard has worked on the most pressing environmental challenges, including climate change, clean energy, water, air, toxics, and environmental justice. As chief counsel, Mr. Bernard has litigated cases against Texaco, Mallinckrodt, Duke Energy, and a variety of government agencies. He is recognized by Lawdragon as one of the 500 leading lawyers in the United States for 2019.

From 1995 to 1998, as a monitor appointed by U.S. District Judge John S. Martin, Jr., Bernard oversaw the creation and implementation of an environmental compliance program at Con Edison. He later served as a consultant to the U.S. Attorney for the Southern District of New York. He is a graduate of Princeton University and New York University School of Law, where he was a Hays Civil Liberties Fellow. He was a law clerk in the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Second Circuit. Mr. Bernard is based in NRDC's New York office.
