

WORLD SUSTAINABLE DEVELOPMENT SUMMIT 2027

CONVERGING COMMITMENTS: COLLABORATIVE ACTIONS FOR A RESILIENT PLANET

March 1-3, 2027 • India Habitat Centre, New Delhi

About World Sustainable Development Summit

The World Sustainable Development Summit (WSDS) is the annual flagship multi-stakeholder convening by The Energy and Resources Institute (TERI). The only independently convened international Summit on sustainable development and environment based in Global South, WSDS strives to provide long-term solutions for the benefit of global communities by assembling the world's most enlightened leaders and thinkers on a single platform.

The 26th Edition of the Summit will be hosted in New Delhi from March 1-3, 2027, under the broad rubric of Converging Commitments: Collaborative Actions for a Resilient Planet.

About Umbrella Theme

Converging Commitments: Collaborative Actions for a Resilient Planet

The year 2026 marks a pivotal moment for global sustainability, bringing together the Conferences of the Parties (COPs) to the three Rio Conventions on climate change, biodiversity, and desertification. As nations assess progress and strengthen implementation, there is growing recognition that global commitments must translate into tangible outcomes on the ground, while local experiences and innovations should inform policy and decision-making.

The World Sustainable Development Summit (WSDS) 2027 theme, "Converging Commitments: Collaborative Actions for a Resilient Planet," underscores the need to move beyond dialogue towards implementation and measurable impact. It calls for aligning ambitions, resources, and partnerships to address interconnected global challenges and accelerate the transition towards a sustainable, inclusive, and resilient future for all.

SUMMIT FEATURES

Why You Should Participate

As the only independently convened international platform in the Global South dedicated to advancing the science–policy interface for sustainable development, the World Sustainable Development Summit (WSDS) 2027 offers a unique platform to:

- Engage with global leaders across government, business, academia, finance and civil society.
- Shape the sustainability agenda through high-level dialogue and evidence-based insights.
- Forge strategic partnerships to accelerate collaboration, investment and implementation.
- Access global best practices and emerging solutions in policy, technology, business and finance.
- Exchange experiences and co-create solutions with leading policymakers, experts and innovators.
- Showcase leadership and innovation and highlight your organization's sustainability initiatives and solutions.

A Platform for Action

WSDS 2027 is a platform where ideas, partnerships and collective ambition come together to accelerate sustainable development. The Summit connects knowledge with action, fosters collaboration, and advances solutions for a resilient, inclusive and sustainable future.

Shri Narendra Modi
Hon'ble Prime Minister of India
(Special Message for WSDS 2026)

"The Global South bears a disproportionate burden of climate change. Yet for them, development is imperative. Climate justice is therefore essential.

Developing nations must eradicate poverty and hunger while safeguarding the planet. This requires technology transfer, financing options and partnerships. Developed countries bear a special responsibility to move faster, live sustainably, and deliver finance and technology at scale."
